

Peter E. Williams, Ph.D.
Bio

Dr. Peter E. Williams is certified in Texas to teach Spanish, English and English as a second language (ESL) and holds the professional school supervision certificate. He lived and taught for over five years in Honduras and has delivered training in Spanish in Costa Rica. His baccalaureate is in Spanish and his Ph.D. includes a specialization in adult learning and distance education. He has taught and trained adults for over 20 years throughout the USA and in Latin America. His experience in distance education includes coordinating online training programs at the Center for Distance Learning Research at Texas A&M University (TAMU) and directing all distance learning programs at Rogers State University in Oklahoma. He has published in professional journals and made presentations at international conferences. Dr. Williams currently manages his consulting business, Stewardship Learning, specializing in e-learning and training.

Peter Williams, Ph.D.
Stewardship Learning
918-640-4915
pwilliams@stlearn.com